

Ramalinga Raju, is an Indian businessman, and a pioneer of the Information Technology industry in India.

Ramalinga Raju was born on September 16, 1954 in a family of farmers. He did his B. Com from Andhra Pradesh University.

After returning to India in 1977, Ramalinga Raju moved away from the traditional agriculture business and started a software company.

Now the company has rapidly developed and became a true multinational company with thousands of employees.

Read more...